Sven Kruck

Co-CEO | The Future is Unmanned.
Geretsried, Bavaria, Germany

Summary

At the forefront of Quantum Systems' revenue growth strategies, my role as Managing Director integrates my expertise in sales, logistics, and analytics, honed over a significant period of leadership in the military, drone, and energy sectors. Our team's focus on manufacturing process improvement and international communication has fostered a dynamic environment that thrives on innovation and operational excellence.

As a Co-Founder of UXS Alliance, I am dedicated to building strategic partnerships that leverage our collective strengths in marketing communications and international market navigation. This dual leadership role not only reflects my commitment to advancing unmanned technology solutions but also embodies my passion for driving transformational change in a rapidly evolving industry landscape.
